

VIOLET PIERCE DAUGHTER OF OIL MAGNATE

Virtually Broke Out of Her Parental Jail to Wed Young Deering

GIRL CLOSELY GUARDED

Servants Had Orders to Notify Mr. Pierce But Plan Evidently Failed.

New York, March 21.—That Mrs. J. A. Deering, formerly Miss Violet Pierce, daughter of H. Clay Pierce, a Standard Oil magnate virtually broke out of the parental jail in which she is alleged to have been a prisoner under watch of servants, to marry young Deering on Thursday was the romantic story told today in connection with the elopement. Deering's father is quoted as authority for the statement.

Several times it is said, Miss Pierce had planned to marry the man of her choice, despite her father's opposition but the previous efforts were frustrated. Finally, according to the report, a servant was set to guard each door, and a watch placed on the young woman. These servants had orders to notify Mr. Pierce of all his daughter's movement and not to allow her to leave the house without informing him. How she managed to get out under these circumstances is a mystery.

PEACE DECLARED BETWEEN CLASSES IN HIGH SCHOOL

Peace has been declared between the rival classes at the High school, and steps have been taken by the Seniors and Juniors to promote harmony during the rest of the year. While class spirit has run high, stories have been circulated that are entirely without foundation.

A statement of facts, signed by the officers of both classes, says that as there is no class day and no peaceful method of ending the supremacy of any one class, the officers, acting for and in behalf of said classes, agreed on March 17 that there would be no more hazing or contention between the classes during the remainder of the school year.

The paper was signed by the Senior officers, President A. A. Schaeffer, Vice President Chas. L. Kibler, Secretary Nellie M. Jones, and Treasurer Walter H. Tyler. The Juniors, President Darwin L. Palmer, Vice President Dudley Miller, Secretary Mary McClure and Treasurer Louise Jones.

FATHER AND SON SENT TO PRISON

Convicted in Different Courts, Neither Knew of Relationship—Son is Still Ignorant.

Spokane, Wash., March 21.—Like father, like son, but the youth was not aware that the man manacled to him is his parent. Benjamin Connors and his 18 year old son, Orrell Connors, were the central figures in this strange and pathetic coincidence at Wenatchee, Wash., west of Spokane, a few days ago. They were convicted and sentenced to serve indeterminate terms for horse stealing and selling a stolen horse. The boy was tried at Waterville, Douglas county, while his sire was convicted

In Chelan county. The former broke jail several times and was sent to Wenatchee for safe keeping. After the elder Connors was sentenced, following a plea of guilty, he told the jailer that the boy in the cell with him was his son.

Connors confided to the officials that he was married in Iowa 19 years ago, and left his wife six months after their wedding day. He learned that a child was born to the deserted woman, but he never saw the boy until he was locked in the same cell with him. Being companions in jail the man and the boy related their experiences, and upon close inquiry Connors learned that the boy was his son. He did not tell the boy. They were taken to Walla Walla in irons by Barney Esterbrook, a guard, who promised the old man he would not disclose his identity to the boy, who occupies a cell in the tier above his father.

WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE HELD TODAY

Congress Leaders Confer Relative to Matters of Legislation

ANTI-TRUST BILL IS UP

Aldrich Currency Bill and Other Important Affairs are Considered.

Washington, March 21.—President Roosevelt held an important conference at the White House today with Senator Aldrich and Representatives Payne and Dalzell, who largely control the course of legislation in Congress. It is understood that the subject under discussion was the proposed bill to amend the Sherman anti-trust law, which will exempt from the provisions of the act certain kinds of combinations under restriction. A tentative draft of the measure has been prepared and it is supposed that this was gone over by those present at the conference.

After the conference it was stated that not only had the anti-trust bill been discussed, but also the entire legislative program which the President desires Congress to put through before the close of the session. This includes the passage of the Aldrich currency bill, the employers' liability bill, legislation limiting the injunctive power of the courts, laying of lines for tariff revision at a special session after March next, probably by designation of a commission to consider the subject of classification of the schedules during the recess and amendment of the Sherman law.

FIFTY NEW LAMPS ARE TO BE ADDED

New Lights Will be Placed in Business Section and Old Ones Will Be Transferred.

Mr. H. M. Lucas, constructing engineer for the Westinghouse company, arrived in the city Friday evening, and on Saturday morning began installing the additional transformers in the city electric light plant which will be required for the several new electric lights which are to be set in all, there will be 50 lights added to the present system.

The lights now in use in the business section will be transferred to other parts of the city, where lights are now needed, and the new ones will be placed about the square and principal down-town streets. The new lights are known as the metallic flame burners. They differ from the old ones in that a metallic composition is used with the carbon sticks, instead of the pure carbon alone, which has been used in the old system. The carbon sticks burn on an average of 100 hours without being replaced, while the new lights will burn the composition sticks for an average of 250 hours. This will mean a great saving to the city because of the fact that it consumed all of one man's time to attend to the regular system. There are at present seven circuits in the city, with 30 lights on each circuit. In this way it takes the light tender a whole day on each circuit, consuming just a week to tend the lights all over the city. The new circuit of lights will give the tender an additional week in which to take care of other work, such as repairing lines, and looking after the various systems in general.

It is believed that the new circuit will be completed within a week.

As far as New York is concerned, he says he is now ready to show New York where to bore the rock on which she stands and have an unending supply with which to meet every need.

POLICE ARE AFTER THRAPP FOR CUTTING

KNIFE USED WITH EFFECT ON RED CONLEY IN WALNUT STREET RESORT.

Latter Remonstrated with Thrapp for His Treatment of a Young Woman Friday.

Because he remonstrated with him for his treatment and language used to a woman in a house on Walnut street, "Red" Conley was terribly cut across the face by Joe Thrapp, late Friday afternoon. The affray occurred at a resort just west of the Bergin saloon, where Conley was staying.

About a quarter of four o'clock one of the girls came running into Bergin's saloon with a story that Thrapp was abusing and threatening to kill another of the girls. Conley rushed to the house and as he entered he said to Thrapp, "Joe, this is no way to do."

"The blank it ain't!" was the reply and with that Thrapp made a pass with a pocket knife. The knife struck Conley and inflicted a deep gash in the lobe of the left ear, penetrating the cheek and making a wound that took many stitches to close.

Immediately after the cutting Thrapp ran from the house and west on Walnut street, where all trace of him was lost. Conley, who was bleeding freely, was assisted to the Bergin saloon and Dr. Knauss called. The injured man refused to take an anesthetic and lay quietly on a couch while his injury was being dressed.

A call was sent to police headquarters and Officers Carroll, Brook, Brown and Sutton responded. A search was made of all the houses along Walnut street, but no trace of Thrapp could be found. He is an ex-convict and has been out on parole from the Ohio penitentiary only about eight months. He was sentenced for a term of five years or more for cutting Officer Callan at the police several years ago, and to this day the officer bears the marks of the knife.

Since his release he has been working as a brakeman in the Hocking Valley railroad yards at Columbus, and was married a short time ago. Descriptions of the man have been sent to all the surrounding cities and he will probably be apprehended in a short time.

DEMAND FOR BIG SUIT AGAINST AN EX-STATE TREASURER

Columbus, O., March 21.—In a formal manner a demand was made yesterday upon Attorney General Wade H. Ellis that he bring suit against former State Treasurer Isaac B. Cameron and several unnamed banks of Columbus for the recovery of $350,000 as interest paid and profit earned upon several millions of dollars deposited by him, when an official, with these concerns. The demand was made by Attorney George W. Bope, who is associated with former Attorney-General Frank S. Monnett and for several years has been prominent in political and labor circles.

In his letter to the Attorney-General Bope says that he is acting in accordance with the provisions of law in making the demand for the beginning of a civil action for the recovery of the money. Astonishing in many respects are some of the allegations made in this epistle. One of them declares that former Governor George K. Nash compelled the return of moneys to the treasury which had been illegally deposited with a number of banks in this city in Cameron's administration as treasurer.

Cameron, who is the president of the Columbus Savings and Trust company, denies all the allegations in the proposed suit.

Choosing Colors

You may have the design of a Michael Angelo—but if it was executed in colors not in sympathy with the surroundings, it would be far from successful.

Green is the easiest one of all to get along with, as almost every other color harmonizes with it. We have this illustrated in nature. Every color of flower combines with the leaves and grass. In the modern school of art green is generally used as a background for pictures in public galleries. Every shade of green from the emerald willow and apple to the dark olive is used.

There is a warmth and dignity about red that gives a homelike character to the hall or dining room that you really cannot get with any other color.

Blue is like yellow—it requires very careful study to blend. There are shades of blue and orange—with touches of green and ruby that are charmingly effective. The Japanese use blue, orange and green with shades of gray in original and effective ways.

Gray is said to be coming greatly into favor with the new school. Gray, green and white may be used in many ways. They could be made to form the basis for the color combination for the whole house.

Come in and look them over. Yours for correct wall covering,

MISERY FROM INDIGESTION VANISHES IN FIVE MINUTES

Diapiesin Will Digest For You 3000 Grains of Food and Overcome a Sour Stomach Five Minutes Later.

Take your sour stomach—or may be you call it indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach; it doesn't matter—take your Stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Paper's Diapiesin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangule and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak; there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested; and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness and many other similar symptoms. If your appetite is fickle, and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause.

Call your stomach trouble by any name you will, but prove to yourself that the real and only cause is Food Fermentation—Sour Stomach.

A case of Paper's Diapiesin costs only 50 cents and tells plainly on the label the name of each ingredient, to show that these Triangles are as harmless and pleasant as candy;—though each Triangule will promptly digest 2,000 grains of food.

Prove to yourself, after your next meal, that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Your relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take the first Triangule.

Apple Dealer Arrested.

Fred Liffen, the commission merchant, this afternoon swore to a warrant charging Simeon Cohen and his brother with selling a car load of apple at retail prices. The wording of the city ordinance is rather vague on this subject and this will be made a test case.

Old Negro Hoe.

Mr. Jacob Weiss of Vanatta brought to the Advocate Saturday, an old fashioned hoe that was formerly used by negro slaves. The hoe was brought to Vanatta in 1938 by William Weiss, father of the present owner. The instrument is probably over a century old and is quite a relic. It has been placed in the Advocate window where it can be seen.

Saturday night the Palace will be open until 11 o'clock.

School of Telegraphy.

Possibly no class ever started by the Y. M. C. A. new school for telegraphers, just starting. This class is meeting a real need in fitting competent men for good positions, and as 25,000 new telegraphers are needed by the railroads every year, there is no reason why Newark can not produce her share and some of the best. For particulars of the school inquire at the Y. M. C. A. Work begins on March 25.

Birth Announcement.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brown of Zanesville, a son. Mrs. Brown was formerly Miss Nellie McCarthy of this city.

Beauty Doctor a Success.

The "Beauty Doctor," which was at the Auditorium Friday night in a benefit performance for the local stage hands' union, did a nice business and after all expenses had been met the boys were able to bank a nice sum for their union. When the curtain went up at 8:15 the stage was bare and the first scene was set. In full view of the audience, giving many an idea of how a stage is prepared by the men never seen, and on whom depend largely the success or failure of a show. The show itself "went big" with the audience.

Every Woman Her Own Complexion Specialist.

A society of women in a southern city recently got out a little book filled with recipes and formulae that would be of general interest to women.

Each woman was to furnish one or more recipe or formula that she had used and found by experience to be the best of its kind.

This book proved to be very interesting to the women, and was considered a great success, as there were recipes for all kinds of good things to eat, helpful household hints, and in addition some valuable toilet table secrets.

One formula, that was printed proved to be extremely popular and has been used with great benefit by numbers of women.

It was a very simple wash for the complexion, that could be easily made at home, and all the ladies that used it were greatly surprised at the remarkable change made in so short a time. They now understand how it is that Mrs. D. (who furnished the recipe) always had such a clear velvety skin. The following is the formula as it appeared:

Obtain at your drug store Rose Water, two ounces; Cologne Spirits, one ounce; Eucalyptus (skin food) four ounces. Put the Eucalyptus in a pint of hot water (not boiling) and after dissolved, strain and let cool. Then add the Rose Water and Cologne Spirits.

This formula can be prepared at home at very little expense, and should be used morning and night. All the ingredients are perfectly harmless.

Rings Round Eyes

J-19

The ill peculiar to women, take different forms. Some ladies suffer, every month, from dark rings round their eyes, blotches on their skin and tired feeling. Others suffer agonies of pain, that words can hardly express. Whatever the symptoms, remember there is one medicine that will go beyond mere symptoms, and act on the cause of their troubles, the weakened womanly organs.

Wine of Cardui

Mrs. M. C. Austin, of Memphis, Tenn. "For five (5) years I suffered with every symptom of female disease, but after using the well-known Cardui Home Treatment, I was entirely well."

REPRESENTATIVE HOWARD'S ACTIVITY IN PASSAGE OF ENCAMPMENT RESOLUTION

Representative Robert W. Howard has been alert, active and efficient in the passage of the resolution by the Legislature restoring the State Encampment Grounds to the Newark Board of Trade.

The resolution, which was first introduced in the Senate by Senator Atwell, and was supported by him with the aid of the Newark Board of Trade Committee, passed that body on Wednesday. On Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock the resolution was transmitted to the House, where it did not have to remain long for final and successful action.

Immediately on the receipt of the resolution from the Senate, Representative Howard brought the measure before the House and delivered a speech showing the reasons why the grounds should be restored to Newark, and urged concurrence in the Senate's action.

The result was that the House responded by promptly voting on the resolution by which it passed, without a dissenting vote.

Mr. Howard thereupon immediately wired the Advocate announcing the passage of the resolution in the dispatch that appeared in Friday's paper.

Secretary Taft's professed sympathy for the Southern negroes because of their alleged disfranchisement, may well be suspected of having some alloy in it in view of his advocacy of the Imperial policy, which holds about as many millions of Filipinos in political subjection.

The collapse of the Diamond Trust may somewhat ease the financial situation for magnates and millionaires, but the collapse of the Beef Trust would bring more joy to the masses. Cheaper necessities is the great desideratum these days.

DROPSY TREATED FREE

Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., the Well Known Specialist, Sends a $3.75 Treatment Free.

Many "Hopeless" Cases Soon Cured After 5 to 20 Doctors Failed.

At first no disease is apparently more harmless than dropsy, a little SWELLING OF THE EYELIDS, HANDS, FEET, ANKLES OR ABDOMEN. Finally there is great shortness of breath, smothering spells, sitting up to breathe, cough, faint spells, sometimes nausea, and vomiting, even bursting of the limbs and a lingering and wretched death if the dropsy is not removed. Dr. Miles' Neutrophic Treatment is the result of 30 years' research and experience. It is far in advance of the usual methods. It removes the first day and removes swelling in a week in most cases. Mr. R. Burford, Banister, Mich., tapped every vein, cured after 4 physicians failed. Mrs. Elvina Sanders, Detroit, Mich., after 10 failed. Many remarkable cures sent on request. Write today for Free Treatment. Describe your symptoms. Address: Dr. Franklin Miles, Dept. O, 735 to 746 Main Street, Elkhart, Ind.

Joseph R. Bush has commenced suit in the Probate court against his wife, Lillian Bush, for divorce. The plaintiff says he was married to the defendant on the 22d day of May, 1906, and that no children have been born of the marriage. For cause of action plaintiff charges the defendant with extreme cruelty; that she visited saloons and immoral places, and that she frequently became intoxicated. He therefore asks a decree of divorce. Frank A. Bolton, attorney.

An affidavit of lunacy was filed in the Probate court by Dr. J. T. Harbottle, charging that Philip Krumm, a citizen of Summit Station, was insane. An inquest was held by the Probate court and the court found that the defendant was insane and ordered him committed to the State Hospital. Deputy Sheriff Hindel went out to Summit Station Saturday and took the patient to Columbus. Mr. Krumm is aged 65 years, is a veteran of the Civil war, and a well to do and highly esteemed citizen. He is extremely melancholy, has religious and other delusions and a suicidal tendency.

He has a wife and a large family of children and grandchildren.

Common Pleas Court.
In the case of the State of Ohio vs. Lola Cox vs. James Vickliff, the court overruled the motion for a new trial and sentenced the defendant to pay the complainant $350. Exceptions were noted.
In the case of Elt Hull vs. Martha Wright et al. an action to recover $2,000 with interest from August, 1873, and in which case a motion was sustained to direct a verdict in favor of the defendants, the court overruled the motion of plaintiff for a new trial. Exceptions were noted.

A Reliable Remedy for the Whiskey and Beer Habit.

Very few men become drunkards because they like liquor. It is frequently the moderate drinkers, who, before he realizes his condition, has become a drunkard. The nervous system, having become accustomed to stimulants, is unable to do the same amount or quality of work without liquor. Hence the victim drinks more and more. This is a state of disease and should be treated by Orin. It destroys the desire for liquor so that the drink is not missed. There is no loss of time or detention from work when it is used.

Orin is prepared in two forms: No. 1, the secret remedy, which can be used in food or drink without the knowledge of the patient; No. 2 for those who take the remedy of their own free will. Both forms are guaranteed. A registered guarantee in every box.
Treatise on how to cure drunkenness free on request. The Orin Co., Washington, D. C. The price of either form is $1.00, but the cost of the complete cure less than one-tenth what is usually charged at sanitariums, with a guarantee that the expense will be nothing unless a cure is gained. Mail orders filled in plain sealed packages on receipt of price.

Orin is for sale by Frank D. Hall.

TEN DAYS MORE WILL SEE THE MOLDERS ROLLING INTO TOWN AND GETTING ACQUAINTED.

Many Strange Faces Will be Seen, But the Old Reliabilities Will Do Away With Doubt.

Ten days more and the Molders will come rolling into town from various parts of the United States, and begin their spring training stunt.
Many strange faces will be seen at reporting time this year, but the return of the old reliabilities will offset the difference and will make the fans feel at home. Future Matthews and maybe coming, Tannehills and Waddles will splash the ink across the hotel registers and then the game will be on in earnest.
And there may be some Ty Cobbs and others in the crowd, but time will tell and the tryouts will bring to light many things. Of course the expense account of the Newark ball club will start from this moment for the club always stands the expenses for living of the men. This is the idea of the exhibition games, for the money realized from these games will help offset the expense of the preliminary season.

Letters from the different men under contract say they are getting the soreness out of their arms and legs and by the time the umpire calls the first game they will be rounding into shape in good style.
BURNS VS. JOHNSON.
Dublin, March 21.—Richard Croker, former leader of Tammany Hall, and the others in the syndicate which backed Jim Roche in his fight with Tommy Burns, have decided to offer Jack Johnson, the negro heavy-weight, $10,000 to come to Dublin and meet the winner of this week's contest.

They say Capt. W. C. Miller calls his automobile an "autogo" but it won't.

Hetty Green has moved into a cheaper flat, but it isn't because she needs the money.

Spring has officially arrived, but the gas meters are still busy.
Now that spring is really here, even if the straw hat crop isn't quite ripe, people ought to begin to keep their chickens in their own back yards.

Easter comes this year on April 19, a much later date than usual. The Newark milliners, dressmakers and tailors are all ready.

The rich Miss Elkins seems to have picked out a near-king for a husband, but he's different from many of the European husbands of American girls in that he has a lot of real money of his own.

Cal and his friend, both shine artists, were talking about the late Republican convention and Col. Gillett's fate. The former, it seems, had done porter service in the Colonel's headquarters at the Neil and his chum was accusing him of responsibility for the popular Colonel's defeat.

"They might eh know you'd be a hoodoo," was the unkind way he said it, but Cal, always ready with an answer, replied:
"See heah, boy, if everybody had a-woked as heard as old Cal, the Colonel would have been nominated by admiration."

One advantage of a late Easter is that the price of eggs will be lower.

"I speak from experience of 25 years with Hood's Sarsaparilla in giving me recommendation. For spring humors and as a general blood purifier this medicine never fails. It always does all that is claimed for it, and more. I know it to be good for scrofula, salt rheum, and all similar troubles, and as a general spring medicine I can positively say it has no equal. It gives me genuine satisfaction to say these few words in favor of the medicine I have found so reliable in my family." Mrs. J. F. Gee, 30 Gould street, Stoughton, Mass.

OVERTAXED.
Hundreds of Newark Readers Know What It Means.

The kidneys are overtaxed; Have too much to do. They tell about it in many aches and pains—Backache, sideache, headache, Early symptoms of kidney ills. Urinary troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease follow.

Mrs. A. J. Gordon, living on Chestnut street, Dresden, Ohio, says: "I suffered severely from a disordered condition of my kidneys. The passages of the secretions were very frequent at times and I was very nervous and dizzy and suffered from a constant backache. I used many different remedies but was gradually running down in health when I procured Doan's Kidney Pills. I can conscientiously say that I received more positive relief from their use than from any other remedy. Mr. Gordon has also used Doan's Kidney Pills for a lame back with satisfactory results."

Plenty more proof like this from Newark people. Call at A. F. Crayton's drug store and ask what customers report.

FLORY TRACT IMPROVEMENT

Work is Progressing Rapidly and the Grounds Are Taking on a New Appearance.

"An opportunity improved is the base of good citizenship." The home loving people of Newark have an opportunity to get a location for homes that will undoubtedly never come to them again—central and ideal in every particular.

We wish to say to the citizens of Newark that neither effort or money will be spared to make the ground of the Abram Flory homestead one of the most beautiful places in Newark. Mound street will be extended and paved, cement walks laid, and every thing done to make it a desirable residence section.

Arrangements have been made with Mr. O. J. Hawkins, one of the very best architects and builders, to take charge of the building, and we are prepared to furnish plans, specifications and estimates on any style of house desired.

When you consider that I have many carpenters and plumbers—men of experience—and buy all materials at wholesale, it certainly is business and to your interest to see what I can do for you. FRED C. EANS, 33 and 35 West Main St. F. H. Keenan, Salesman. 14-cod

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

Nature and a woman's work combined have produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers they relied upon the roots and herbs of the field to cure disease and mitigate suffering.

The Indians on our Western Plains to-day can produce roots and herbs for every ailment, and cure diseases that baffle the most skilled physicians who have spent years in the study of drugs.

From the roots and herbs of the field Lydia E. Pinkham more than thirty years ago gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills, more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

Mrs. Bertha Muff, of 515 N. C. St., Louisiana, Mo., writes:

"Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my troubles public.

"For twelve years I had been suffering with the worst forms of female ills. During that time I had eleven different physicians without help. No tongue can tell what I suffered, and at times I could hardly walk. About two years ago I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice. I followed it, and can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice restored health and strength. It is worth mountains of gold to suffering women."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Muff, it will do for other suffering women.

Archer of Columbus, deputy grand high priest of the Grand Chapter of Ohio. Sore Throat Wisdom—If every mother could realize the real danger that lurks behind every case of sore throat, she wouldn't rest until she had effected a cure every time a child has it.

Your family physician will verify the statement that it is a positive fact that every child with sore throat is in immediate danger of contracting Croup, Quinsy, Tonsillitis or Diphtheria, and is not removed from that danger until the throat is cured. Think of it!

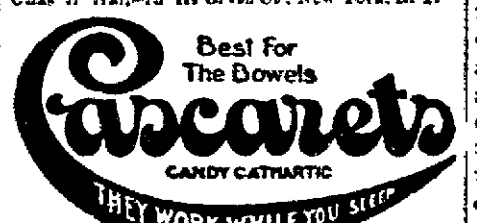

Liniments or outward application of medicines do not and cannot cure the ailment, though they may offer temporary relief. Neither can you cure sore throat with a cough syrup or a cold cure.

To cure, you must get at the seat of the disease, removing the cause. Nothing does that so quickly, safely and surely as TONSILINE. A single dose of TONSILINE taken upon the first appearance of sore throat may save long weeks of sickness, great expense, worry, even death. TONSILINE is the stitch in time.

Use a little sore throat wisdom and buy a bottle of TONSILINE today. You may need it tomorrow.

TONSILINE is the standard sore throat remedy—best known and most effective and most used. Look for the long necked fellow on the 25 or 50 cent sized bottle when you go to the drug store to get it.

Odd Fellows.

Mt. Olive Encampment No. 12, I. O. O. F., held one of the grandest meetings of the year last Thursday night. After transacting the regular business of the evening, the outside sentinel reported 11 candidates in waiting. They consisted of lawyers, doctors, clerks and farmers. The officers of the lodge surrendered their chairs to the degree team and the Royal Purple was conferred to the taste of a queen. Fat D. L. Jones, Will H. Miles and Rankin acted as guides, whose duty it is to show the strangers the frills, the broad and narrow road to Mt. Oliveville. At the close of the degree work, refreshments were served. Quite a large delegation of Patriarchs went to Zanesville last night to visit Howard Encampment, and witnessed the Royal Purple degree.

Newark Lodge, No. 623, I. O. O. F. held an interesting meeting Monday night. After the routine of business we conferred the first and second degree on a number of candidates in pleasing manner.

Next Monday night we will confer the third degree. All candidates desiring this degree will please be present not later than 7:30 o'clock. Members of the degree team please be on time. Visitors are always welcome.

It is gratifying to the officers and members of Olive Branch Lodge No. 54, to note the revival of interest, which all are taking in the work at the present time. Some work is being done at each meeting and applications for admission are being received at every meeting. A very large crowd witnessed the conferring of the first degree on last Tuesday evening, and on next Tuesday evening, March 24, there will be work in the second and third degrees.

Let every member make it convenient to be present. Visiting brothers always welcome. Refreshments will follow the work.

Court of Honor.

After the council fire was quenched all the brothers went to the banquet room, where excellent refreshments were served.

RETURN FROM SOUTH.

L. A. Weiss and wife returned today from their winter sojourn in the South. They left Newark December 1, and report having enjoyed every part of their visit immensely. Among the points of interest visited were Washington and Mt. Vernon, Savannah, Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Tampa and St. Petersburg, Fla. and the battlefields of Chickamauga, Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge. They also spent two weeks at Lexington, N. C., where Mr. Weiss owns a valuable farm. Returning home via Cincinnati, Mr. Weiss had the pleasure of visiting Mr. J. G. Conner who was his school teacher about 25 years ago, and who is now a prominent real estate dealer in Cincinnati. Mr. Weiss says that while they were delighted with their trip, they return fully convinced that no other state stands quite as high upon the ladder of fame as our grand old state of Ohio, and they are proud of her than ever before. Mr. Weiss sold his interest in the carriage and implement business here last fall, but as yet has not decided just what he will engage in.

THE LION AND THE MOUSE.

The approaching engagement of "The Lion and the Mouse," the most widely discussed dramatic success of the generation, is already suggesting its importance by the number of mail orders for tickets that have come in from surrounding towns. Everybody is familiar with the great American play of which Charles Klein is the author, and which just closed its second year in New York, having made a record run there during all of last season and through the entire summer. Henry B. Harris will send a company to this city in which special care has been exercised in order to secure artists of exactly suited to the several roles, and he will further provide for the enjoyment of playgoers by bringing the complete production. "The Lion and the Mouse" will be here for Tuesday evening, March 24.

AT THE ORPHIUM.

Carnation night at the Orphium proved a big drawing card and the popular playhouse was filled to capacity at both performances. Manager Lawrie stood at the door. Over 32 dozen flowers were given away at both performances. Besides the regular show, which was a pronounced success, the amateurs proved a big drawing card. M. J. Landrum, formerly of this city, and late on the Lyric circuit of theaters in the south, and a black face comedian was very clever. Miss Clara Siosser, an elocutionist, also made good with the audiences. The barrel race between five boys, was a scream from start to finish. The boys removed their shoes and after the strings had been knotted they were thrown in a barrel. Then a prize was given to the boy that got his own shoes on and laced them up first.

NEW SHOE STORE OPENED SATURDAY

The Seymour Shoe company opened its new store to the public Saturday, with a fine line of goods on display in the newly decorated and remodeled room in the Doty house block, formerly occupied by the Newark Trust company.

The room is provided with a handsome new plate glass front, the south show window having three sides open for the display of footwear. The interior is divided into three departments, the ladies' and misses' and the men's and boys', and the rubber department, to the rear of which is located a large stock room. The entire finish is of mission style, the color scheme being brown and green. The stock boxes have been built to special order and are of imitation green leather. Dainty little mission chairs for customers, take the places of the old fashioned benches and settees. The room is especially well lighted with four skylights and prism glass in the front.

A corps of obliging and accommodating clerks are on hand to cater to the desires and comforts of customers.

An attractive new feature is the ladies' rest room. Here are seen a desk, easy chairs mirrors and complete toilet equipments for the convenience of all.

DEPENDENT CHILDREN

(Communicated.)

I haven't looked up the law pertaining to the commitment of neglected and dependent children to the County Children's Home; but it seems to me that the authorities of that institution ought to be anxious, yea, over-anxious, to care for all such children (whether parental control is relinquished in every case or not), unless the statutes of the state clearly and expressly forbid them to do so.

BROTHER BEAR'S BIG HOUSE

By JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS
ILLUSTRATED BY J. A. CONDE

(COPYRIGHTED 1904 BY JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS)

"U V all de creeturs," said Uncle Remus, in response to a questioning look on the part of the little boy, "ol' Brer B'ar had de biggest an' de warmest house. I dunner why ner wharfo', but I'm a-tellin' you de plain fack, des ez dey tol' it unter me. Ef I kin he'p it I never will be deceivin' you, ner lead you inter no bad habits. Yo' peppy trotted wid me a mighty long time, an' ef you'll ax him he'll tell you dat de one thing I never did do wuz ter deceive him whiles he had his eyes open; not ef I knows myse'f. Well, ol' Brer B'ar had de big house I'm a-tellin' you about. Ef he y'ever is brag un it, it aint never come down ter me. Yit dat's des what he had—a big house an' plenty er room fer him an' his famby; an' he aint had mo' dan he need, kaze all er his famby wuz fat an' had what folks calls heft—de nachal plunkness."

"Well, time went on an' fatched de changes dat might be spectet, an' one day dar come a mighty knockin' on Brer B'ar's do'. Brer B'ar, he holla out, he did, 'Who dat come a-knockin' dis time er de year, 'fo' de corn's done planted, er de cotton-crap's pitched?' De one at de do' make a big noise, an' rattle de hinges. Brer B'ar holla out, he did, 'Don't t'ar down my house! Who is you, anyhow, an' what you want?' An' de answer come, 'I'm one an' darfo' not two; ef youer mo' dan one, who is you an' what you doin' in dar?' Brer B'ar, he say, sezee, 'I'm all er one an' mighty nigh two, but I'd thank you fer ter tell me yo' full famby name.' Den de answer come."

"Brer Polecat say, 'You may think you aint got no room, but I bet you got des ez much room ez anybody what I know. Ef you let me in dar one time, I boun' you I'll make all de room I want.'"

He had a son name Simmon, an' a gal name Sue, not countin' his ol' 'oman, an' dey all live wid one an'er day atter day, an' night atter night; an' when one un um went abroad, dey'd be spectet home 'bout meal-time, ef not befo', an' dey segashuated right along fum day ter day, washin' der face an' han's in de same wash-pan, in de back po'ch, an' wipin' on de same towel same ez all happy fambles allers does."

"I'm de knocker an' de mover bofe, an' ef I can't clim' over I'll crawl' under ef you do but gi' me de word. Some calls me Brer Polecat, an' some a big word dat it aint wuff while ter ermber, but I wantet move in. It's mighty col' out here, an' all I meets tells me it's mighty warm in dar whar you is.' Den ol' Brer B'ar say, sezee, 'It's warm nuff fer dem what stays in here, but not nigh so warm fer dem on de outside. What does you reely want?' Brer Polecat 'spon', he did, 'I wants a heap er things dat I don't git. I'm a mighty good housekeeper, but I takes notice dat dar's mighty few folks dat wants me ter keep house fer um.' Brer B'ar say, sezee, 'I aint got no room fer no housekeeper; we aint skacely got room fer ter go ter bed. Ef you kin keep my house on de outside, you er mighty welcome.'"

Uncle Remus paused to see what effect this statement would have on the little boy. He closed his eyes, as though he were tired, but when he opened them again, he saw the faint shadow of a smile on the child's face. "'Taint gwine ter hurt you fer ter laugh a little bit, honey. Brer Polecat come in Brer B'ar's house, an' he had sech a bad breff dat dey all hatter git out—an' he stayed an' stayed twel time stopped runnin' ag'in' him.'"

"This comes from buying a cheap umbrella: the blooming thing looks like a sieve."

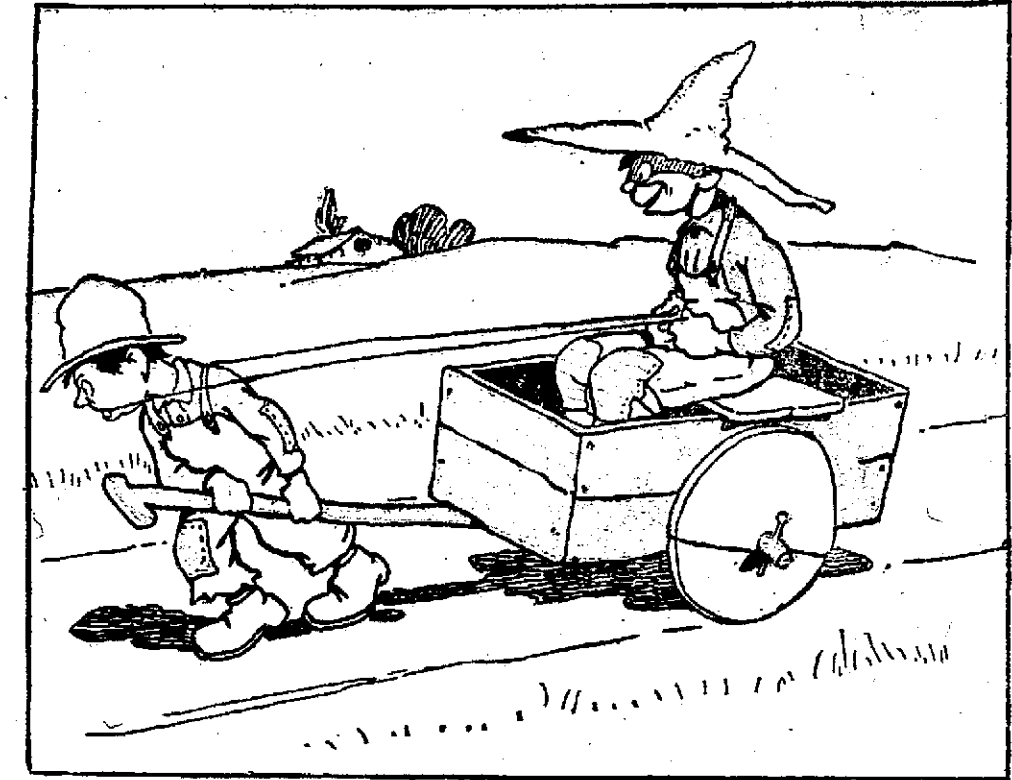

"Yes, that's me name!"
"It ain't legible."
"You bet your life it ain't, it's Mikey O'Brien."

"Throw that cigar away, my little man."
"Hully gee! So as youse kin git de butt. Say, I ain't as easy as dat."

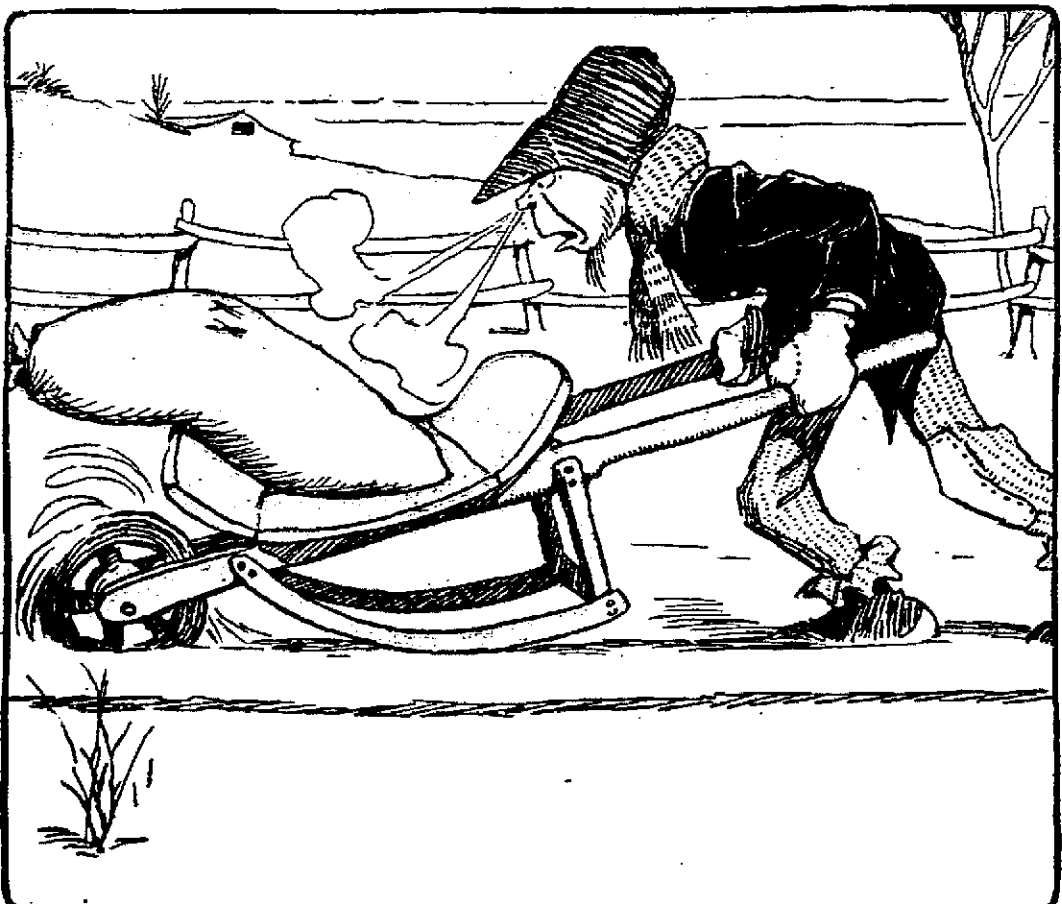

"Tank you officer—hic—awful dirty weather—hic—we're havin'."

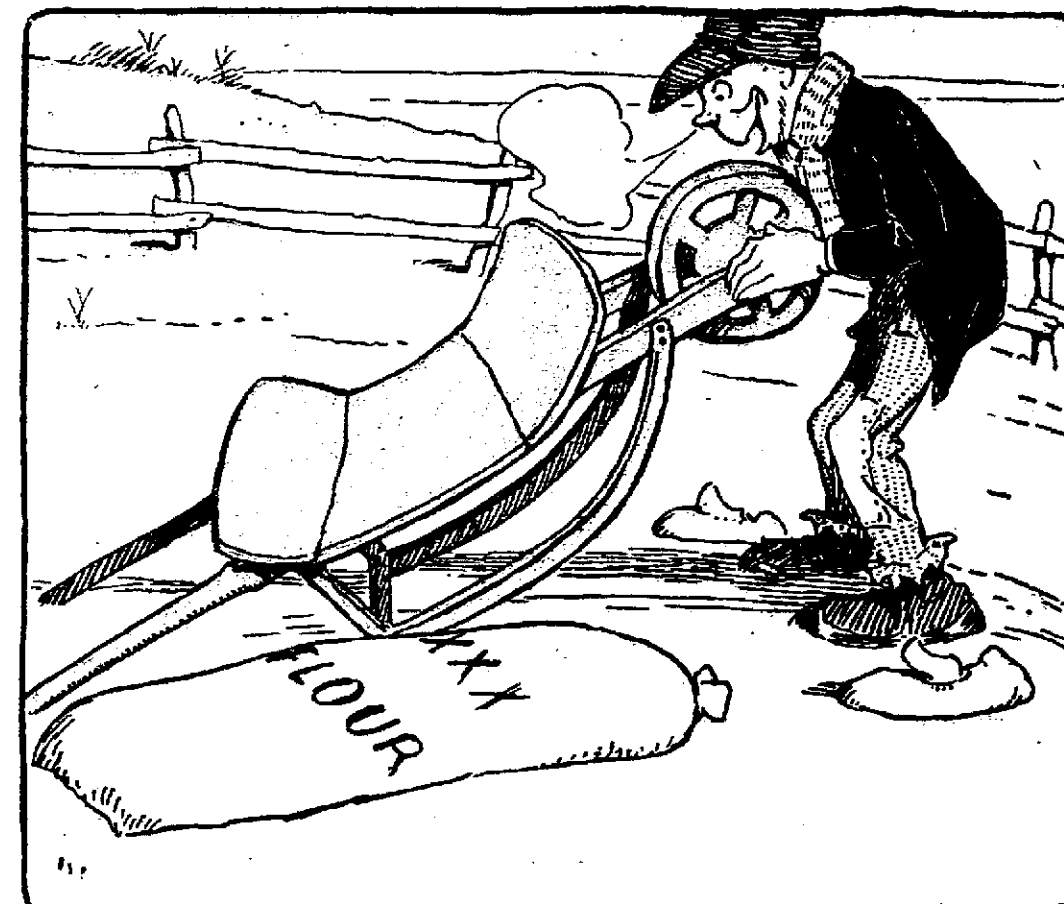

"If you can keep dat gait up for another mile you'll show dat you got de right stuff in yer to play in my football eleven."

PAT'S GREAT IDEA

PAT: "Sure, and 'tis a sled I ought to be havin'."

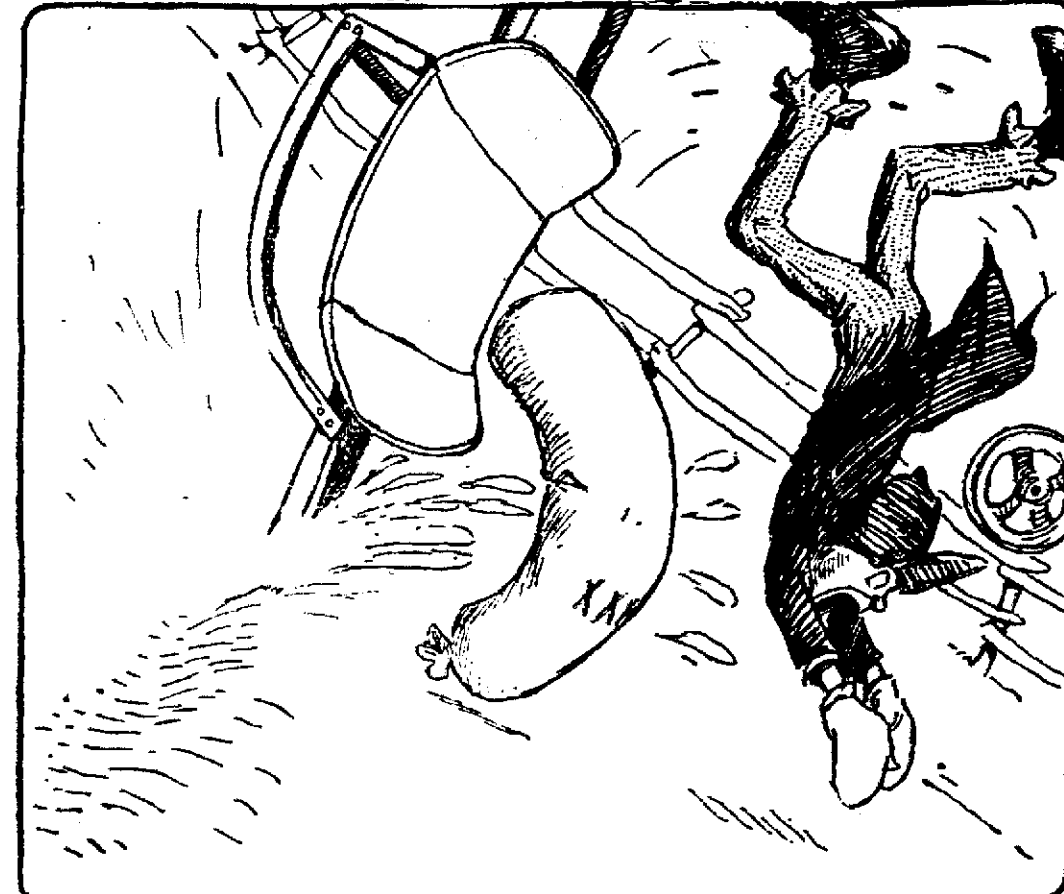

"Ah, 'tis a great head I have on me shoulders."

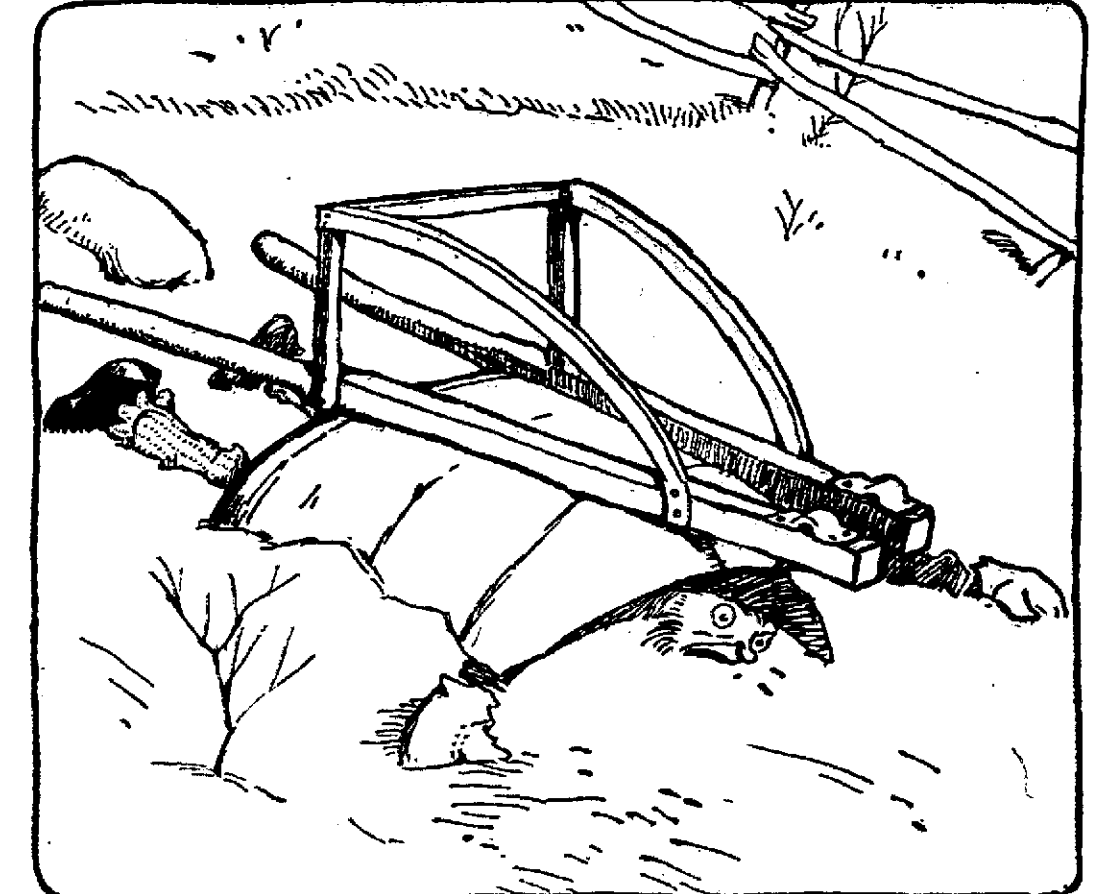

"Sure, an' this barrow is a good friend to me."

"It goes wan way as well as anither."

"Begorra, the blooming thing turned traitor, an' gone back on me."

Home Treatment for Spring Fever

SPRING fever days are at hand. We all know what it means when mother's feet lag and she reads the patent medicine testimonials, and Sister Beth stays home from school one or two afternoons each week.

"Spring fever."

The tonics may stimulate and the afternoon in a darkened room may relieve the headache, but the tired feeling somehow hangs on until hot weather, by which time the sufferers announce that they are getting used to the change from cold to heat.

Nonsense!

The change in weather has nothing to do with so-called "spring fever." The tired woman who demands a tonic and the exhausted school girl who is never free from headache are suffering from a common ailment, blood poison.

This is not the form of blood poisoning which breaks out in ugly sores. It is represented by lassitude, languor, headache, sleeplessness, general debility, loss of appetite and wrinkles.

But that is quite enough.

It is caused by foul air, air breathed and re-breathed and then exhaled until the ill-ventilated living room or kitchen, or the stuffy schoolroom, is afloat with death-dealing germs.

For that tired feeling, first, pure air. Of course you are tired, and you think you cannot walk. Well, then drag your way round the block the first day, and fling open your window the first night. If you have to pile on comforts to do this. Drive the impurities out of your blood and your lungs. If you fail to do so, look out for typhoid, pneumonia and other real ailments.

Do not fret at the tired school girl because examinations are at hand and she does not seem equal to the task. Encourage her to have fun out doors. Say "do" instead of "don't." Urge her to organize a walking club. Send her on pleasant errands. Induce her to play golf, or tennis, or to ride a wheel and to row as soon as the weather permits. Never mind the embroidered blouse she was to finish for commencement week. If you do not let her fill her poisoned lungs with that glorious antidote, pure air, she will not be fit to wear any blouse, embroidered or otherwise.

If you are the tired mother, let some of the housework go and try the fresh air cure yourself. And do not wait for housecleaning days to ventilate your house, which has been closed all winter long. Ventilate and do it now!

The anaemic girl or woman should have her appetite whetted with fruit and fresh vegetables. Serve tart fruit instead of hot cakes for breakfast, cocoa instead of tea for lunch, and a fresh salad with olive oil in the dressing with every dinner. Banish pork from the table entirely at this season of the year, and substitute for hot breads, water-like slices of brown toast.

If a laxative is required, and generally the exhausted houseworker or school girl finds her entire elementary canal poisoned by foul air, try this recipe:

Half a pound of dried figs, half a pound of good raisins, one ounce of senna leaves; chop these together and mix in a porcelain stew pan with one cup of sugar and one of boiling water. Simmer gently for twenty minutes then pour into a baking pan lined with oiled paper. When cool, cut into inch squares and eat one at bedtime. Re-

Little Things that Count

THE newest leather belts are narrow—not over two inches in the back and narrowing toward the front. Soft crushed leather belts are out of date.

Elastic belts, studded with steel nuggets are still worn, and no reduction in their customary high price is noted.

Some of the very smartest gowns are trimmed with three very handsome buttons, many of them costing as much as three dollars each. These buttons are very brilliant in coloring. The centers are enameled in pink, turquoise, green and yellow. This portion of the button is about the size of a twenty-five cent piece, and is surrounded by a good quality of rhinestones.

Other buttons are seen about the size of a half dollar in gorgeous colorings and an idealized head on them. These are particularly suited to outer garments, such as silk coats, cloth wraps, etc.

Chamois gloves are very smart for general street wear. They come in many soft colorings, as well as the natural skin coloring. These gloves can be washed like a silk glove, and will wear indefinitely. They should be purchased a size larger than you ordinarily wear, as the constant washing is apt to shrink them. They are very reasonable—those in elbow length costing less than $2 at the smartest city shops.

The newest belt buckles are in jade. This stone seems to be a fad of the moment, but it has the redeeming feature of being exquisite in coloring, and not terribly expensive.

Imitation pearl ear-rings have become so cheap that they are very common, yet to the girl with dark coloring and thin face they are extremely becoming. A very substantial pair in medium size costs less than three dollars.

Spring Styles in Two-Piece Suits

THIS promises to be a strong skirt-and-coat season. The jumper, so popular last summer and fall, and the shirtwaist suit, so dearly beloved of women for many seasons, have both been retired in favor of tailored skirts and matching coats for all street wear. This rule holds good whether the fabric be cloth, silk or "tub" goods. What is more, the jacket is an out and out jacket, with mannish lines, long sleeves, tailored reverses and a vest, or a suggestion thereof. The natty little Eton with a mere apology for sleeves, the cape, the fichu—these are all very well in their place, which is not on the street.

The Eton appears as a sleeveless coat of lace or net, or other contrasting material over a house frock. The fichu may be seen on a dancing or dinner dress with surplice or Empire lines, but do not be inveigled into buying anything cape-like for street wear. The cape fad was short-lived, and wisely thus. It makes every woman look odd.

The second-best tailored suit, which every woman must have for shopping, marketing, walking and informal visiting of relatives and intimates, is something quite apart from her calling or church suit. It is far more simple, and yet it is apt to cost no very much less. That is because good lines come high, and the plainer the suit, the better must be the lines.

As to fabrics. Mixed weaves reign this spring in all cloths. In colors it is wisest to choose between those without heat, such as grey, blues (of which there seem to be dozens), greens, or black and white. Mustard color has died a natural death, which is a good thing, as it was becoming to but few persons. All browns, reds and deep purples seem to absorb and reflect heat, so avoid them if you may have but one tailored suit this spring.

Three-tone stripes are good, but later these promises to be a reaction in favor of infinitesimal checks and broken lines which resemble more than anything a tiny chicken's claw.

Black and white pin stripes are overlaid with tiny, fine bright color designs and often have matching borders, broad stripes of all black, or black and white. The woman who is limited in the number of her tailor-mades, however, should eschew violent color contrasts, and also borders, as they will be rather common before the season wanes.

Crude, plain colors are not in demand. Mixed goods of any sort take precedence and the more subtle color combination, the better.

In silks, what has been known for years as rajah, a rough, heavy pongee, reappears this season under several new names and perhaps in a more supple quality, though it lends itself to tailoring. It is generally self-toned, but with a shadowy weave. It is particularly fetching in steel greys and gunmetal. This silk is heavily braided for two-piece suits.

A cloth two-piece suit and one in silk or linen should be included in the wardrobe of every well dressed woman. She should never appear on a city street without a jacket.

The smartest skirt for youthful, trim figures, whatever the age, is ankle length. The matronly figure, however, demands a skirt that escapes the ground by an inch and a half only.

Pleats hold good for spring skirts, and the new pleated skirt is practically untrimmable but very full. The gored skirts have a pronounced ripple or flare, and fit the figure snugly about the hips. Cutaway styles remain good in jackets, and perhaps the rounded fronts take precedence for several tailored coats; the long, graceful points for more dressy effects. The vest is everywhere seen, and is one of the expensive features of the spring suit. Braided vests are the least expensive, and in best taste for tailored coats. Silk, embroidered, or lace vests belong to dresser closets.

Lenten Fish Recipes and Puddings

NOW that Lent is upon us, the up-to-date housewife scurries about for new ways of cooking fish. Many families who observe Lent strictly have fish served twice a week, Wednesdays and Fridays. Others who are not religiously inclined say they have a fish dinner every Friday in the year, just for the sake of variety and as a relief from meat.

In buying canned fish, the best is always the cheapest, for any inferior grade is apt to be canned with impure oils, and ptomaine poisoning is often the result of such unwise economy. Buy a standard brand, which you know by past experience is what the manufacturers claim for it, and accept no other.

Fresh fish should be eaten the day it is caught. Although it is eatable the second day, much of its flavor is lost when it has been out of water for more than 24 hours. And in cooking any fish, be liberal with your seasoning. There is no item on the menu that will permit of so much spice and seasoning—and unless fish is properly seasoned in the process of cooking, it makes a flat and most unpalatable dish.

Here are a few recipes which may appeal to the housewives who read our columns.

Halibut Creole: Slice a large onion very thin and fry in a scant tablespoon of lard. When cooked, add a tablespoon of flour and cook for two or three minutes until well blended. Add to this half a can of solid tomatoes, a cup of boiling water and a cup of cooking claret, a tablespoon of butter. Salt, and add cayenne pepper to taste. Cut halibut into pieces about the size of a portion and simmer in this sauce until thoroughly cooked. Serve on dry toast, and garnish with parsley. Cod or bass can be substituted for halibut.

Fried Smelts: Smelts should be washed in very cold water, and thoroughly dried on a cloth, after which they should be rolled in flour. In a bowl have an ounce of melted butter and the yolks of two eggs. Beat this thoroughly, drop the smelts into it, then roll in bread crumbs and fry in plenty of hot lard. Salt and pepper to taste.

Escalloped Fish: Remove all the bones and shred finely any white fish that has been cooked. Place a layer of this in a baking dish and cover with bread crumbs, then a thin layer of sliced cold potatoes. Add a little seasoning, a thin slice of onion and a hard boiled egg, sliced. Repeat this until the dish is full, finish with bread crumbs on top. Make a rich drawn butter and pour over it, set in oven to brown. This is a very practical dish, as any cold fish can be utilized in this way.

New Flinnan Haddie: Let the fish stand in boiling water long enough to loosen the skin and bones. Take it out and pick off all the meat in small flakes. Add to this salt and pepper and a tablespoon of melted butter, a tablespoon of lemon juice and one of rich cream. Heat all together and serve on thin slices of toast which have been dipped in hot water and buttered. Serve with slices of lemon and sprigs of parsley.

Corn Puddings: Take a can of corn and put in a chopping bowl and chop the corn very fine. Now put in baking dish and add to this corn one cup of rich milk, butter the size of a walnut, two tablespoons of sugar, and two eggs, which have been well beaten. Stir all together and bake in a moderate oven for one hour.

Corn Oysters: The name is taken from the shape of the corn when cooked. Take half a cup of corn and chop fine, add to this the yolk of one egg, salt and pepper to taste. Mix well and then add the white of the egg, which has been beaten very stiff. Drop on hot frying pan in lard about the size of an oyster and fry brown on both sides. If you find the corn is very dry, you can add a little milk to thin the batter before frying.

Pilau: Half a can of tomatoes, one cup of rice, one pint of water, one cup of diced meat, one-half tablespoon of curry, one-half teaspoon of salt, two tablespoons of butter, one-half teaspoon of onion and a little pepper. Heat the tomatoes and water, add onion, and as soon as it boils add one cup of rice, meat and curry, salt and cook until the rice is tender, which will be about thirty minutes. Add the butter when ready to serve. Serve on toast.

Pineapple Pudding: Make about a quart of boiled custard, very thin. Soak a half a box of gelatin in a little cold water and add to the custard, flavor with the juice from a can of pineapple. If not sweet enough, boil some sugar in the juice and add in this way. Put into mould and set on ice to harden. When ready to serve for dessert, turn out on large round plate or platter and surround the pudding with slices of the pineapple. The fruit can be enriched and freshened by simmering with some sugar and a few drops of hot water.

Cherry Pudding: Make a batter of two eggs, one cup of milk, one-half teaspoon of salt, one-half cup of melted butter, one and one-half cups of flour, and one teaspoon of baking powder. Mix them in the order given. Turn into a shallow pan. Over the top of this batter put the cherries from a quart can which have been drained of their liquor, and sprinkle with three tablespoons of sugar. Bake about thirty minutes in rather slow oven and serve hot with cream and sugar. This makes a delicious dessert. The liquor that has been strained off can be utilized for sauce on plain corn starch pudding the next day.

Manners and the Young Man

THE personable young man in the average American cities has developed into a much pampered individual. If he dances well, makes a pleasing dinner partner and gives a little attention to purple and fine linen and sends an occasional bouquet of violets to particularly favored women, he is very apt to be placed on a social pedestal, which is good for neither his mentality nor his manners.

So many American men give themselves over entirely to the pursuit of wealth or fame that the young man who can gracefully keep up the social life and still score a moderate business success is in a fair way to be spoiled by over-appealing women friends. At first, warmed by the glow of social success, he is extremely careful about paying his obligations. He shows his appreciation of invitations by dancing even with the wall flowers, about whom his hostess is worried. He makes his dinner calls religiously, and is especially careful to be attentive to the out-of-town guests of such women as have made him welcome in their homes.

But in time, to quote a country expression, "he feels his oats." He over-estimates his importance, and he becomes careless as to social obligations. At the dance he bestows his attentions only upon the belle of the evening, or the newest girl, the out-of-town guest. If pleasing partners are not plentiful, he lounges in the smoking room when too bored to dance. He is no longer punctilious as to the hours for calling, and he is very apt to annoy the husband of some influential hostess by lounging in their comfortable living room at most inopportune hours, filling the air with smoke, and his host's choicest Cloisonne bowl with ashes. But he has become a fixture in the social world, and somehow manages to retain his foothold. And the saddest part of the situation is that young men, new to the town and its social life, are very apt to accept him as a model of good form, for what they are apt to call "smart manners."

It is never "smart" to be rude. The young man who honestly desires to be eligible and welcome at nice homes will observe the following rules:

Never remain seated so long as a woman is standing, and always rise to be introduced to anyone, be it man or woman.

Always ask permission to introduce a man friend to a woman. You should never say "Miss Smith, I want to introduce you to Mr. Jones." Rather say, "Miss Smith, may I introduce my friend, Mr. Jones, to you?" You present the man to the woman, not the woman to the man.

Never carry your hat and overcoat into a parlor. Leave them in the hall on the hat rack, else on a chair near the door of the parlor. Nothing is so annoying as a young man who sits and twirls a cane, plays with his gloves, etc., during an evening call. Bid your hostess good night, shaking her hand if you so desire, then go into the hall and put on your coat, hat and gloves. Never shake hands with a woman while your hand is gloved, unless meeting her on the street. In a house, remove your glove.

If you have been entertained at a dinner or musicale, you should call upon your hostess within two weeks. Formal calls should last about half an hour, and never get so familiar that you stay until your hostess yawns and wishes you were home. In other words "do not wear your welcome out."

Never stay later than eleven at night, and this only among intimate friends. If your hostess seems to be enjoying your call and you are likewise entertained by her company, leave at a reasonable hour, asking permission to come soon again, but do not stay until the young lady is apt to be reprimanded by her parents.

When you enter a room, seek the hostess at once. Even if you see some friends and want to talk to them, you should first greet your hostess, returning to your friends afterwards. And never make the fatal mistake of leaving a house without bidding the hostess good-bye. Do not argue with yourself, "She is busy and I'll just slip out." When she is not busy she will miss you, and recall that you left without showing this courtesy.

If you are a guest at a dinner, and your partner is not congenial—if the girl you admire sits across the table, do not neglect your partner for this reason. Talk to her, no matter how stupid and unattractive she is. After the dinner is over and guests are sitting in the drawing-room, you can seek out a more companionable person with whom to converse; but while you are at the table your attentions must be centered on the young woman whom your hostess assigned to your care.

Do not be lax in your attentions to the mothers. Many a girl has been won by the courteous treatment a young man shows her parents. And many a girl has been lost because some young man thought such politeness a pure waste of time. Do something for the old ladies once in a while. Your reward will not be a blush and a flirtatious glance from snapping eyes, but the return will come in other and perhaps more substantial ways.

"Do not plead a very common excuse, 'I never have time to write notes.' We all know that the writing of a note consumes but a few minutes, and there is no excuse for not writing a line now and then. Send your acceptances or regrets promptly.

Stuffed Peppers: Parboil either red or green peppers. Cut the top off, leaving the stem on, however. Remove all the seeds and fill with the following recipe: Take a can of corn and chop fine, add to it a tablespoon of melted butter, a tablespoon of cream, two eggs, well beaten, salt and pepper to taste. Fill the peppers with this mixture, put on the cover and bake in a quick oven.

Cherry Tapioca Pudding: Soak one small cup of tapioca in water over night. In the morning add a pinch of salt to it and cook until clear; then add butter the size of an egg, one heaping cup of cherries, half a cup of cherry wine and sugar enough to suit your taste. Flavor with teaspoon of vanilla, turn into baking dish and bake until brown. Serve very cold with cream. If the flavor of nutmeg is liked, grate a little on the pudding before putting it in the oven.

Fruit Tart: Make a very short pie crust and line individual cake tins with it. Set in oven to brown. When cold fill these little shells with almost any fruit. Blueberries which have been boiled under rather rich are delicious also, blackberries or raspberries. If peaches or apricots are used, they should be sliced and a spoonful of whipped cream put on top of each.
